Our guiding principles & beliefs

Our first priority and responsibility is to our customers. Our customers can expect long-term partnerships, reliability, flexibility and integrity from us. We build, manage and perfect the payment experience for their needs, both current and future. We provide superior products and support while safeguarding our customer's data.

We are committed to the success of our employees, offering training, professional development and competitive compensation. We pride ourselves on maintaining a culture of respect within a collaborative and casual environment. We recognize the importance of a separation between work and personal life, therefore we manage our business in support of this balance.

We conduct business with integrity, and we expect everyone we work with to do the same. We are committed to treating our customers, partners, employees and consumers fairly. We are devoted to sustainable growth in a fiscally responsible manner, continuously evolving through dedicated and thoughtful efforts. While this is a for-profit company, we operate in an ethical manner and are unwilling to compromise these principles.
